MRS. J. WALTER COX.

The community was shocked at noon Tuesday by the sad death of Mrs. Marie Jane Cox, wife of Mr. J. W. Cox, at the family home on Magnolia street. This most estimable lady had been ill only a short time and her untimely taking away when in the prime of life is truly a misfortune to her loved ones. A dutiful mother, devoted wife and kind neighbor were the attributes of this excellent lady. Mrs. Cox was a native of Pascagoula, eldest daughter of the late Mr. B. J. Jane and Mrs. Aimee Krebs Jane. Besides her husband, she is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Geo. E. Belote, Mrs. Jasper Williams and Misses Ethel and Artemise Cox; three sons, Messrs. Pedro, Edmond and Claude Cox; a sister, Mrs. Adam Gautier, and one brother, Mr. Edmond J. Jane; all of whom reside in this city except Mrs. Belote, who lives in Memphis. She also leaves several grandchildren and numbers of other relatives.

Mrs. Cox was in her fiftieth year. She had resided her entire life in Pascagoula and was a devout member of the Catholic church. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock from her late residence, proceeding to Our Lady of Victories church, thence to Pascagoula cemetery for interment. Father B. O'Reilly conducted the funeral services. A large funeral cortege and many beautiful floral offerings attested the esteem in which she was held.

chestra. Phyllis Logan, identical twin, was born in 1910 to Samuel James Logan Hickey Logan. Her maternal grandfather was William Daniel Hickey and her father was Charles Hickey. Her paternal grandfather was Charles Cotton Logan and her mother was Phyllis Logan. As a child, she participated in dance recitals at the Studio, Country Club Plaza in St. Louis, Missouri. She graduated from the University of Missouri School and then, the family moved to Ocean Springs where Phyllis attended the University, and her sister, Edith, attended Biloxi High School. Phyllis was a member of the Omega Fraternity and Lambda Chi Alpha. She left college to marry Chuck at the St. Louis Cathedral. The reception for the wedding was held at the Court of the Two Orleans. Chuck and Phyllis lived in San Diego, where Chuck was a signer at Consolidated Vultee Aircraft until he entered the U. S. Navy. After his discharge from service, he was an Engineer for Rohr Aircraft in Vista, Calif. Soon the call came from his father, S. J. Logan, to join the businesses. Phyllis and Chuck spent years in the businesses until Chuck's death in 1957. Chuck then took over the business with Monitor Panel Bay St. Louis. The Husseys are permanent residents of Jackson County and Chuck commuted to the engineering job and also worked for Wood Products in Ocean

Spring. The Husseys opened Tony's, one of the first businesses in the Plaza Shopping Center in Ocean Springs. After the Husseys sold these businesses, Chuck took a position as a marketing representative for the factories of Lowell, MA, where he spent three southern states. Phyllis started in real estate with Realty which was owned by her son, Max Hussey, who later took over. Phyllis was recognized many times as a marketing achiever with Wang and Chuck and Phyllis enjoyed many trips within the United States, overseas to London, Paris, Bermuda, and the Bahamas. Both sons were reared in Mississippi. Logan Hussey resides in Oxford, Mississippi, and is a professor at the University of Mississippi. James Max Hussey is a charter member of the Noyes Business and Professional Club and a charter and lifetime member of the 1699 Historical Committee.

Club, and the Gulf Coast Symphony and Opera Guilds. As a member of the Ocean Springs Genealogical Society, she recently decided to join the National Genealogical Society. Since her Logan ancestry is depicted in the book, "Americans of Gentle Birth and Their Ancestors", she intends to pursue the genealogy of other family members.

E.C. "Chuck" Hussey was a former Lion and Rotarian and presently serves on the Board of Directors of the YMCA, Ocean Springs. He is a member of the Revelers Carnival Organization, the Gulf Hills Civic Association, and the Mississippi Coast Power Squadron.

Today, the Husseys are retired from their businesses, and enjoy activities at the Biloxi Yacht Club and boating on their 31 foot Chris Craft Commander which is docked behind their home on Bayou Poito, Gulf Hills.

ILLING, EUGENE WILLIAM

F278

The first of the Illing clan to be born on American soil (Ocean Springs, June 16, 1870), Eugene helped his mother run the hotel business after his father's death in 1884, and took over the business completely upon the death of his mother in 1894. After completing school in Ocean Springs, he studied electrical engineering at Mississippi A&M (Mississippi State). But, Eugene's first love was politics, and he became actively involved in the local affairs of the Gulf Coast.

Eugene took the hand of Emma Judlin on Nov. 15, 1894, six months after his mother's death. To them were born Eugene William, Jr., Aug. 31, 1895, who would marry Jessie Colligan, but would sire no children. Harold Ivan, Feb. 7, 1897, who would marry Edith Flowers of Vancleave and sire three children. William, born on June 16, 1897, who would

Although the family hotel business flourished, in 1904 the building was razed, and three homes were built on the property which faced Porter Street, just east of Washington Avenue. In 1909, Ocean Springs' first motion picture house was established by Eugene Illing and W. S. Vancleave. The Illing's Theatre came into being when Eugene bought out Vancleave's interest and constructed a larger theatre on the site next to the walk-in known as the "Airdome."

Eugene showed himself to be quite the entrepreneur. Other successful businesses included plumbing, electrical and general sales of wood and coal. His involvement in local politics won him the seat of Justice of the Peace. Even long after his term expired, he was known as the "Judge"; he died July 16, 1947.

The Theatre was leased until Emma's death ten years later, whereupon the Illing estate was sold to the First Baptist Church, which erected a huge church on the property.

ILLING, FERDINAND WILLIAM

F279

Ferdinand William Illing was born in Regensburg, Bavaria (Germany) on May 31, 1838. Ferdinand and his younger brother, Wilhelm, followed in the career path of their father and forefathers as Castle Administrators in Bavaria and Bohemia (Czechoslovakia). Upon completion of his botany studies in Prague and Munich, Ferdinand assumed a prominent position in the parks of the Prince of Thorns and Taxis, Possenshofen, Bavaria.

At age 20, Ferdinand entered the Austrian Army and enlisted in the campaign of 1859 in Italy with an artillery regiment. During that time, he was credited for design improvements in the field guns used by the army.

Thanks to the favorable recognition of Baron Von Kraus, attache' to Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, Ferdinand became Superintendent of Parks in 1864 under Maximilian, Arch Duke of Austria and Emperor of Mexico. While assigned to Mexico City, Ferdinand was responsible for the design and development of the Palace Gardens.

When Maximilian was overthrown in 1866, Ferdinand sailed to New Orleans via Cuba and soon settled in Ocean Springs. He acquired land on the corner of Washington and Porter Avenues where he engaged in horticulture and planted several species of pecan trees. In neighboring towns, he helped establish orange groves, though he was unsuccessful in establishing orange trees in Ocean Springs.

On Nov. 11, 1869, Ferdinand married Rosalie Eglin, a native of Alsace, France and a resident of Ocean Springs. Branching out in new career directions once again, the ILLING HOUSE was opened in 1870, which William, born on June 16. He would marry Emma Judlin of New Orleans and sire four children: Eugene William, Jr., Harold Ivan, Marion Emma and Alvin James.

After Eugene William came Alice Elizabeth, born Oct. 3, 1874, whose life was pathetically brief, dying Sept. 19, 1876. Next came Ferdinand William Edward, born Jan. 16, 1878, who would move to New Orleans and marry Maude Walle. They had two children: Robert Ferdinand and Oliver.

Camilla Louise was the fourth child to be born to Ferdinand and Rosalie on Aug. 12, 1882. She would marry George Kiernan and rear seven children: Rose, Mary, George, Althea, Veronica, Ferdinand and Robert. Tom died at birth.

Ferdinand's health was shattered when Yellow Fever spread through Ocean Springs. After a trip to Europe failed to improve his condition, he returned to Ocean Springs and died on May 27, 1884 of bronchitis. He was 46. Rosalie continued to operate the hotel and other businesses, but only lived ten years after Ferdinand's passing. She died May 27, 1894.

ILLING, HAROLD IVAN

F280

Born in Ocean Springs on Feb. 7, 1897 to Eugene and Emma, Harold pursued a stint in the U.S. Navy before returning to Ocean Springs to become a projectionist at the Illing's Theatre. During the early 1920s, he attended automotive trade school in Detroit, MI and was later employed at Dale's Automotive in Ocean Springs.

Harold was also well known for his skill as a master carpenter and cabinet maker and built several homes in Gulf Hills during its early days of development. He and "Dode" Schriber built the well-known American Legion Hall in Ocean Springs. Harold was also part of the construction teams for both the old Ocean Springs-Biloxi Bridge and the Veterans Administration Hospital in Biloxi and was employed by the Veterans Administration as a landscape gardener.

On July 26, 1921, Harold married Edith Flowers of Vancleave. Born to them were Edith Ivan, on Sept. 19, 1921, who died at birth; Harold Ivan, Jr., born Oct. 2, 1922, who would marry Marian Ford, a native of England, and raise four children: Therese Marianne "Terryanne", Barbara Harriet "Babette", Candace Marie "Candy" and Justin Forde "Jeff". After Harold, Jr. came Adrienne Marie, born Jan. 1, 1925, who would marry Leslie Finnie of Illinois and raise five children: Susan, Jane, Diane, Kathleen and Bruce. After Adrienne came Emagene Dorothy, born Mar. 5, 1927, who would marry Olen "Mutt" Pierce, a native of northern Mississippi, and rear five boys: Mike, Rick, Tim, Keith and David.

Harold, Sr. passed away on June 13, 1959. Eleven years later, his widow Edith married Howard Hymers of St. Louis. Edith passed away Jan. 30, 1984.

ILLING, HAROLD IVAN, JR.

F281

Harold Ivan Illing, Jr., was born on Oct. 2, 1922 in Mobile, AL to Harold, Sr., and Edith Illing. Harold, Jr., received his primary and secondary education in Ocean Springs.

At an early age of fourteen he became fascinated by the marvels of electricity and built a "one-tube" radio. At 15, Harold went to work as a projectionist at the Illing's Theatre, which was to be his work through high school.

Following in his father's path, Harold served in the U.S. Navy six years where he specialized in electronics. During that time, he was educated at the University of Houston and was one of the first to be involved in the Navy's secret radar equipment.

Harold wed Marian Forde, a native of Southampton, England, on June 9, 1946, and sired four children: Therese Marianne, born Aug. 31, 1947, who wed Mark Elliot Fink and lives in Los Angeles; Barbara Harriet, born July 17, 1951, who lives in San Francisco; Candace Marie, born July 30, 1955, who wed John Eagleson and lives in New Jersey with daughter Erin Kimberly, born July 15, 1983, and Justin Forde, born Mar. 20, 1957, who lives in Los Angeles.

Harold's background in electronics led him to a career position with Hughes Aircraft Company, where he served as an electronics engineer for some 25 years. In this position, he traveled the world acting as trouble shooter for some of the federal government's most important defense operations. Before joining Hughes, he was employed by the U.S. Department of Defense as a radar and electronics instructor, where he served several years in Japan at Keio University, and later at Keesler Air Force Base, Biloxi. While at Keesler, Harold attempted to also keep the old family business going, but interest in the Illing's Theatre had waned due to the advent of television.

Since his retirement from Hughes Aircraft, Harold has been living in Gulf Hills, a suburb of Ocean Springs, and working on projects in aquafarming.

JANE', EDMUND JOSEPH, SR.

F282

Edmund Joseph Jane', Sr., was the son of Buenaventura Jane Jane' and Marie Aimee Krebs. His grandfather came to the New Orleans area from Spain. He moved to Pascagoula and ran the Noyes Hotel near the L & N Depot on Krebs Ave. It was called the Noyes after his nickname, meaning LITTLE MAN.

Edmond's sisters were Marie Aimee, who married Walter Cox; Merced, called Massay, born May 6, 1879, died Feb. 21, 1956, who

Frances Esther Frederic
and Edmond Joseph Jane'

Edmond was educated at the Infant Jesus Academy in Pascagoula, St. Stanislaus College in Bay St. Louis and St. Mary's University in Nazereth, KY.

In the summer of 1892 at the age of 17, Edmond began his career in banking as a runner with the Scranton State Bank of Pascagoula. In the succeeding five years he served as bookkeeper, teller and assistant cashier. He resigned from the bank in 1899.

That same year, at the age of 24, he organized and opened the Merchants and Marine Bank in Pascagoula with W. E. Frederic de St. Ferol as its first president. Edmond served as cashier and vice-president of that institution until 1903 when he was elected president after Frederic's death.

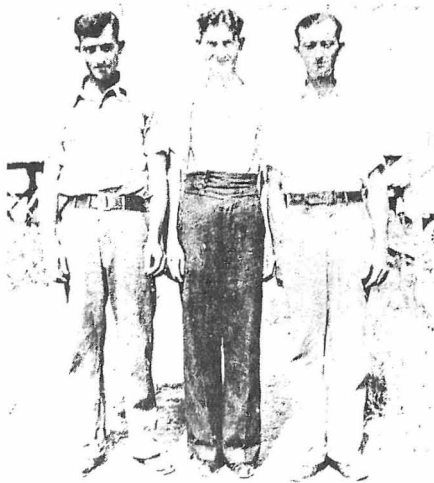

He remained as active executive until June 27, 1919, resigning due to ill health. He then established the Pascagoula Hotel on Delmas Avenue, and also the E.J. Jane' Insurance Agency, managing the hotel, insurance office and a real estate business from an office in the hotel.

When the stock market collapsed in 1929 and a subsequent Great Depression caused many banks to fail, the Merchants & Marine Bank was one that also failed.

Edmund returned to the bank to reorganize it and became the president of that institution again, all the while still keeping his businesses open.

In the meantime, Edmond had married Frances Esther Frederic in 1905 and they had nine children. They are: Edmond Joseph, Jr., called "June", married Verna Blake; Frances Ester, called "Franc", married first, Hiram Dees Cudabac, and after his death married second, Charles H. Johnson; Buenaventura Jane, called "Bon", married Dorothy Eley; Yvonne Isla, married Merley H. Jones; Pedro Rene married Maye DuPont; Elsie Janis married Bernard B. Walker, Sr.; Edith Helen married Harold M. Seaman; Sarah Aimee, called Sally, married Frank A. Birdsong; and Doris Helen, called "Dodie", married Robert E. Aiken.

JOBE, ORVILLE, GEORGE AND WOODROW

F283

Orville Fred Jobe and his brothers, George Jobe and Woodrow Jobe, came to Pascagoula, MS, in the year 1941, looking for work. They were all farmers in Corinth, MS, but they felt that a better living could be made in Pascagoula. All their families were left behind until they could get jobs and homes for their spouses and children.

A few months later, they sent for their families. The first ones that came were Orville Jobe's mother, Maude Jobe, wife Jessie Jobe, and daughter Ouida Jobe. The two women and one child boarded a bus in Corinth, MS, and travelled approximately five hundred miles.

Their new home was a renovated two room shack where they all had to live, eat and sleep in shifts. The men worked and went to welding school at night. During this time, Orville Jobe bought some property between Pascagoula and Moss Point, which was called East Side. He bought building supplies and started building our home. Our home started out with two rooms, a bedroom and kitchen, and later more rooms were added.

My mother got a job at the Woolen Mill, which later became Cinderella Knitting Mills, and worked there for many years in order to help my dad make a living.

My sisters were all born at home. Sara Jobe was born Sept. 11, 1944; Mary Aline Jobe was born July 7, 1946; Carolyn Jobe was born Feb. 7, 1949; and Jackie Jobe was born May 23, 1951. My brothers are Orville Jobe, Jr., born Sept. 15, 1956, in the Jackson County Hospital, and Ricky Lane Jobe, born Aug. 24, 1959, at the Singing River Hospital. We all went to school at Charlotte Hyatt and Moss Point High School in Moss Point, MS.

Orville Jobe worked many years at Walker Shipyard, but later worked at Ingalls Shipyard.

Orville Fred Jobe's family religion was The Church of God, but since there was no Church of God near our home, we started going to Eastside Baptist Church. Our father and mother and grandmother didn't go to church very much, but we children did.

My father's brothers sent for their families and they all made their home in Pascagoula, MS. One of my father's brothers, Woodrow Jobe, took sick with galvanic poison and later died in a mental institution in Whitfield, MS, at the early age of 26. Later after his death, his wife took their two young daughters, Maudie Louise Jobe and Joann Jobe back to live in Corinth, MS, where her family lived. After they lived there a while, Woodrow Jobe's widow, Velma Patterson Jobe, met and married Warner Woods. They were married a few years when Velma P. Jobe took sick with T.B. and died, the children were taken by the Welfare Dept. and sent to a T.B. Sanatorium near Magee, MS. My father was notified of all this and was told to go get them. He went and got them and they were raised as our sisters. Most people didn't know the difference because we all had the same last name.

As the years passed, my aunts and uncles moved back and forth and pretty soon they all had left and made their homes elsewhere. But our family was here to stay. We grew up, married and left to make our own homes. Now, my sisters are scattered. Sara Jobe Bloodsworth Brady Evans and husband Robert Evans and children, Christine Bloodsworth, Angel Bloodsworth and Wayne Bloodsworth are in Napa, CA. Aline Jobe Wheat Phipps and husband Steve Phipps and children, Benjamin Wheat and Patricia Wheat Phipps, live in Oakridge, TN. Oh yes, Benjamin Wheat is married and he and his wife live in Gulfport, MS. He is in the Navy.

Carolyn Jobe Ryan and husband Denis Ryan and children, Devon Ryan, Kelsy Ryan and John Ryan lived in Ocean Springs, MS for a while, but are now living in Jackson, MS. Jackie Jobe Bush and husband Joel Bush and daughters, Jessica Bush and Brooke Bush are living in Pensacola, FL, and have made their home there.

Orville Fred Jobe, my brother, works at Ingalls Shipyard as a welder. Orville Fred Jobe and wife Brenda Jobe and daughter Tim Jobe made their home in Gautier, MS.

Subject: Cox-Jané

Dear Else,

When I read your E-mail I was flabbergasted. You worked for my uncle Pedro at the Merchants & Marine Bank! My Dad, Claude Alfonso, used to talk so often about "Pete" or "Pedro" pointing to his own "Spanish nose" and laughing and he spoke of the bank many times.

I live in Milford, Connecticut which now has about ten inches of snow on the ground. Northern winters do drag on and inspire thoughts of the sunny south yet they do surround one with a crisp, clean beauty, a change in life style and a time to do the things you avoid during the warm weather.

Your willingness to help me is most gratifying, especially because I'm am kind of a Don Quixote when it comes to putting a puzzle together as genealogy seems to require. Note the Spanish influence there.

I was only in Pascagoula once and that was when I was two years old so I don't remember a thing about it.

Anything that you can send to me, whether on loan or for sale would be greatly appreciated. I will indicate specifically what I am looking for, and maybe you can point me in the right direction. I hope to gather enough basic information on the Cox and Jané branches so that I might be able to continue the search in Spain and to wherever Thomas Edward Cox (of South Carolina) or his ancestors can be traced.

I have the book "Pascagoula: Singing River City" by Higginbotham.

I know that my Grandmother, Marie Rose Jané was the daughter of Buenaventura Jané and Marie Aimee Krebs. I was able to find quite a bit on the Krebs side going back to Neumagen, Germany (a big surprise to me). The Krebs, or "Von Krebs" line may include the well known Nicholas Cardinal Krebs of Cusa (1401-64) but I have not been able to verify it.

There are a number of blind alleys I have traversed thus far in and around Pascagoula. By the way, my Dad always pronounced it "Pasca- GO- la" although it seems that everybody else says, "Pasca-GOO-la." I've never been able to figure that out.

1. My grandmother's obit. refers to her sister "Mrs. Adam Gautier" but does not give her first name. Would you know whether or not the name was "Merceé?" Are "Merceé" and "Mercedes" the same person? The webpage of Richard Serrazin indicates that Marie Rose had two brothers, Edmond J. Jané and Pedro Rene Jané. I have contacted Mr. Serrazin regarding the discrepancy.

2. Dad (who died on July 6, 1968) talked a lot about "Fernan' Gautier" and I got the impression that he was dad's uncle. But in the Higginbotham's book, Fernandez Gautier's dates are (1822-91). Dad was born in 1898 so he had to be talking about some other Gautier. Would he have been a nephew of a Gautier?

3. In your E-mail, you indicated that Buenaventura Jané was born in the Pyrenees. That could make him a Basque, especially with a surname that sounds more French than Spanish. Dad once said that B.J. Jané was "thrown out of Spain" for political reasons. According to Higginbotham, Jané was accompanied to America by Vincente Ros and Captain Perez but no mention is made of why they left Spain or why they traveled together. Wallie Cox, who lives in Pascagoula, told me that Vincente Ros was his great grandfather and that on the Cox side, Lofton Elmer (Brother of my Grandfather John Walter) was Wallie's other grandfather.

* I want to unravel #3 above -- I think there is a great story there.

4. I have had no success whatsoever in trying to locate Thomas Edward Cox in South Carolina. Do you know where he lived, whether he was born in SC or came from the Britain or Ireland or if one of his ancestors did?

Else, thanks again for responding. I am excited about the possibility of our digging up a bit of treasure here.

Sincere best wishes,
Bob

16 Ging

CHORUS

Happy Birthday to you Ging
A working wife, a mom, our grandma
You've been so many things
But to us you'll always be 16 Ging

On Tuesday days and our birthdays
You always remember, and Ging
Roman Meal bread, talks that we had
Guess we'll always remember

Just a few of the things
Of the 90 years you bring
But to us you'll always be 16 Ging

REPEAT CHORUS

Pickups from school, the golden rule
You're always so thoughtful, and Ging
7Ups or Cokes, to soothe our throats
You're always so thoughtful

Just a few of the things
Of the 90 years your bring
But to us you'll always be 16 Ging

REPEAT CHORUS

The games we played, the nights we stayed
At your house were so precious, and Ging
Coloring eggs, bunny laid you said
Memories all so precious

Just a few of the things
Of the 90 years your bring
But to us you'll always be 16 Ging
To us you'll always be 16 Ging
